

HIGH-TECH + HIGH-TOUCH COMMUNICATIONS EXPERIENCE INSURANCE AGENTS NEED

To stay competitive as an Insurance Agent or Broker today, you have to accelerate your shift to the digital world to meet your clients where they are – online.

The transition impacts every aspect of your agency’s business. Your digital marketing campaigns drive traffic to your digital storefront where your clients can comparison shop, order online, sign contracts and make payments.

All you need to complete your “digital office” is a communications system that lets you deliver personalized service without being there in person.

WELCOME TO NETFORTRIS COMM-UNITY

NetFortris Comm-unity is an all-in-one communications platform that lets you call, text, conference, video call or meet online with your customers from anywhere – office, on-the-go or at home.

I have been using NetFortris for over 10 years with my multiple locations in Florida. During this time my business revenues have doubled due to incredible customer service support from this organization. For example, customer service has been able to assist us in altering our call sequence to our ever-changing marketing campaigns, so calls go directly to the right sales team without [the need for] a receptionist or phone tree.

Domingo R. Bravo,
President & Agency Owner – Allstate

I can't imagine running my business at the scale that I do without [NetFortris'] system. It is reliable, efficient and covers everything I need to keep my team productive and my customers happy. Service in any industry is always important but when it comes to your business communications – service has to be top notch. Thank you NetFortris for helping my business be the best that it can be!
