VOICEMAIL TRANSCRIPTION

MASTER YOUR MESSAGES

The NetFortris Voicemail Transcription feature makes you the master of your messages. Get the text and a playable audio file via email. Plus, get notifications in Heads Up Display (HUD), where you can read transcriptions and listen to your messages.

BENEFITS AT A GLANCE

Clear Clutter

Quickly scan your transcription to decide which voicemails need your attention, which ones you can delete, or who to call back immediately.

Mobility

Check and handle urgent voicemails without disrupting meetings or missing important activities.

Shareability

Getting a message into the right hands is now as simple as forwarding an email.

Password Security

Since only you see your emails and your personal HUD account, there's no need for remembering or updating passwords.

BETTER VOICEMAIL

Easily Access & Manage Your Voicemail in Multiple Ways

Experts estimate that we read information in half the time it takes us to hear and comprehend it. That's part of why turning voicemails into text is so powerful. Plus, with voicemail transcriptions, you can access your voicemails from anywhere, whether it be in a meeting away from your desk or while on-the-go.

Desk Phone Access

If you prefer managing your voicemails by stopping the blinking red light on your desk phone, feel free.

On-Screen Management

Unified communications puts all your instant messages, call controls, voicemails, and voicemail transcripts all in one place: HUD. You can even call right back or leave a message with a single click.

Smarter with Smartphones

With our HUD Mobile app, you can carry your desk phone anywhere you go, including your voicemails. Easily see all your calls – received, placed, and missed – and listen to your voicemails, too.

No Problem with Noise

When you can read voicemails, noise level and location no longer matter.
